2393-10

Course Instructions

Electrician's Guide to the Building Regulations

Course Description

To enable practicing Electrician's and others within the Building Services Engineering Sector, operating in the domestic environment, to gain an understanding of how electrical installations in dwellings within England and Wales must comply with all relevant Building Regulations.

This qualification is only suitable for those practising within England and Wales, due to there being different regulations in Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Course Objectives

Introduction and Overview:

- Scope, purpose and structure of the Building Regulations
- Notifiable and non-notifiable works
- Approved Documents A, B, E, F L1, M and P ("Part P")
- Enforcement of the Regulations
- The role of Building Control Services

Required Course Documentation

Delegates must obtain a copy of the IEE Electrician's Guide to the Building Regulations, updated to the 17th Edition (2009 re-print), and the Electrical Installer's Guide to the Building Regulations v1 for: For Dwellings and Associated Areas in England and Wales (NICEIC and ECA) for use during the course and assessment.

Other Information

This qualification does not deal with how to meet the technical requirements when carrying out specified work. This would be covered by the C&G Level 3 Certificate in the requirements for electrical installations (BS 7671:2008) 2382-10.

Location and Times:

Venue:	Centurion House Barrows Road Harlow Essex CM19 5FN
Times:	9.30am – 5.00pm (includes on-line examination)

Other information:

We ask all delegates to switch off all mobile telephones whilst the course is in progress. You will be advised by your course tutor at the beginning of the course timings etc of breaks which will generally be: one mid morning break lasting no more than 20 minutes; a 45-minute lunch break with a further mid afternoon break, again lasting no more than 20 minutes. Please be aware that the course will resume promptly after the allocated break time. If you wish to have more than the prescribed number of breaks to answer mobile telephone calls or for other reasons, this must not impinge on the running order of the course in any way, and that the course may have to progress without you. It is important that prior to your examination, that you follow the instructions of your course tutor.

Contacts

If you have any queries regarding any of the above information then please contact:

Nicola Courtier – Course Administrator, Total Electrical Training Ltd.

0845 370 8118

Follow us:

You can also follow us on Twitter and FacebooK