TO THE FUTURE AND BEYOND

Many people ask what happens after our NLP Practitioner course
"What specifically will I get or can I do, from attending?"

We thought it would be useful for people interested in our NLP Practitioner programme to know about some of the incredible changes people have had since they attended.

They are about real people and real examples of how learning NLP affects many people from different walks of life.

One of our students two weeks after graduating said:

"It seems that everything I'm doing is affected by NLP....I have already done 2 phobia cures in t he office and also tried the internal conflict resolution technique with someone torn between their chosen faith and family pressure. Hard work but amazing!"

Another from the same course said:

"I had 4 ladies come into my taxi and I used the Milton Model (trance and unspecific language) to help them relax and enjoy the journey. Anyway, they all said that this was the best Taxi ride they have ever had and that they would recommend me to everyone they met. Well, the next morning I received 3 phone calls from each of their husbands asking to use me that day!"

One of our students from our March course said:

"I carried out a confidence building metaphor on my husband as part of a hypnotic induction about two weeks ago and although he said it didn't do anything he's mysteriously become healthier and he's been more outgoing. As a test I'm asking him how his day has bee; he used to say something like, 'awful', 'alright but…' however on Thursday last week for the first time in 23 years he replied "It's been a really exhausting but very successful day thanks." If I believed every word he says I'd be flabbergasted because apparently he's never had a successful day in his life before. I have to admit to secretly smiling and continuing to let him believe he can't be hypnotised, mostly because he's benefiting, so this morning I whispered as he started to wake up 'today's going to be a wonderful day'. Who knows once I've perfected giving him amnesia as well, he will fully recover and have a life of contentment.

I'm having so much fun with these new skills. I carry out little secret tests and then see if they've worked and no one has sussed me out yet. It's just as well I have their best interest in mind."

Another:

I've learnt a great deal about alternative uses of NLP which in turn has helped me become more flexible in my approach to life and developed my general understanding of familiar techniques. Oh, I've just realised another aspect of my life that has changed, I'm much more curious and passionate than I used to be. I feel like I'm evolving into someone I never imaged I could be and it's pretty darn cool! You can quote me if you like. :-)

One person a year after the course said:

"I can say without doubt that it has changed my life. I often refer to it; use it in everyday conversation or consultation with my clients."

Learning more than NLP

We pride ourselves on the fact that people learn more than just the NLP skills. From the way our course is structured and run, people really do get amazing life changes. So much so, that we are confident enough to say that we are probably one of the few NLP training companies where people create such tremendous changes over such a short period of time. The changes are so endemic in who they are now that their everyday experience of the world is never the same and has become so much more rich and joyful.

As a demonstration, this testimonial from one of our NLP Practitioners from the RAF had this to say:

> "I came on the course because of an interest in the techniques and a desire to learn new skills to use in my work. I never expected the personal change I made in such an intense way over just a few days. Whilst at times I was maybe a little sceptical about certain elements, my mind was absolutely convinced about it all after some incredibly powerful experiences which have significantly changed my perspective on my own life. For that I am truly grateful."

As an NLP training company we like to go beyond our own doors and commit ourselves to our clients for life. We are so proud of the way our students change that we help them after the course by mentoring them in other areas of their personal change. We do it because we once walked in those same shoes. We take a personal interest in their future.

NLP to those who haven't yet fully experienced an NLP Practitioner course can sometimes come across as just a set of tools needed for either a specific career, coaching or just for personal change. To the people that attend, it envelopes all areas of their life and changes their perspectives on themselves, those around them and gives them options for the rest of their life in all that they do.

What we love about our NLP Practitioner course is that it's not just a 'change who you are' course, it is about people's ability to dramatically affect the way they get results. It affects who you are and how you operate in business too. These skills, models, tools and abilities go together with the personal change at such a deep level; that the effect is insurmountable to typical business personal development soft skills training that people consistently obtain results by applying what they have learnt on our course.

The Darwinian Solution

In times of economic pressure, it is those that have the Darwinian skills and winning attitudes that will survive over those that don't, either in business as a business or as an employee. Flexible approaches to changing circumstances, pressures and coping strategies are the evolutionary tool of today's successes. As you can see the incredible skills that our students have learnt and that we have witnessed over time has borne the fruit of their transformation in how it has both impacted and changed theirs and the lives of others in such a short space of time. If I were to say it, these people are the Darwinian ancestors of the following generation.
