PTLLS (Preparing to Teach in the Lifelong Learning Sector)

What is PTLLS award?

PTLLS award is a nationally recognised qualification for anyone wishing to teach or train in the lifelong learning sector (non compulsory education). PTLLS is currently the industry benchmark and minimum requirement for people who want to work as trainers. It is a stepping stone to achieving the Certificate or Diploma in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector (CTLLS and DTLLS). The actual qualification is accredited by NCFE and is called Level 3/4 award in Preparing to Teach in the Lifelong Learning Sector.

How is the training delivered?

Firstly you complete an online learning course (Moodle), consisting of 8 modules of virtual lessons, reading and completing questions and activities. Each module is different in length but takes between 2-3 hours. After the completion of each module, you are required to complete and submit an assignment of approx 200 words. You will also complete a scheme of work, lesson plan and micro teach.

The subjects covered on the Moodle are:

- The Role of the Teacher
- Responsibilities and Boundaries
- Teaching
- Learning
- How to do Lesson Planning
- How to complete a Scheme of Work
- Evaluation, Feedback and Review
- Policies, procedures and codes
- Record Keeping
- How to deliver inclusive and motivating learning

You are allocated a mentor who will be available to answer any questions. She/he will contact you within 48 hours of registering to introduce him/herself. You may contact your mentor at anytime to ask questions and get advice throughout the course. Your mentor will also be the person to mark your assignments and orchestrate your micro teach.

Once you have completed the Moodle and completed all your assignments, you will complete the micro teach. Your mentor will then help you put your portfolio together which is submitted for internal and external verification.

What is the micro teach?

This is held in locations across the UK on a monthly basis. Your mentor will arrange your micro teach. This involves presenting a 15 minute teaching session to your peers and mentor. Your peers will evaluate your micro teach and your mentor will carry out an assessment. You will then evaluate 3 of your peers teaching sessions.

How long does it take?

You can complete the course within 2 weeks, fulltime or 4 weeks part time. The Guided Learning Hours for this course is 30 plus 30 hours of self study. The micro teach takes 1 hour.

What happens afterwards?

Once you have completed the course, you will be able to teach people in the non compulsory education sector. You can then progress onto the Certificate in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning sector (CTLLS) and then the Diploma in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector (DTLLS).

Who are Bright?

We are part of Bright International Training, who have contracts with employers and colleges internationally. We specialise in delivering assessor, verifier and teacher training to the highest standards achievable. We then help them to develop their career, either through within our own delivery arm or with one of the many specialist recruitment companies with which we have close links. From your first day of training with us, right through to the completion of your first candidate and throughout your career, we will be there to help and support you in your new career.

Are Bright accredited?

Bright are accredited by NCFE to deliver assessor and teacher training. The company also has ISO9001 accreditation for quality and customer service. In our last External Moderation visit, we were graded 1 (Excellent) in ALL areas. All Bright staff are highly experienced, qualified assessors and/or teachers and everyone has an NVQ in customer service.

Our flexible training approach is built around your needs

We offer a high level of flexibility in our training approach. You can qualify at your own pace and fit training around your existing job and lifestyle commitments. The online learning Moodle means you can learn at home or at work. Our dedicated assessors will always give you the best possible advice and support, and will only ever be a phone call away.

Train with the Best!
"NCFE say Bright are Grade 1 (Excellent) in ALL areas in all our EV visits".

Are there any entry requirements?

There are no formal entry requirements, but you must have achieved or be aiming to achieve a qualification and have experience to be able to teach in a subject. In addition you should have basic literacy, numeracy and ICT skills.

How much does it cost?

The course fees are all inclusive at £295 and can only be paid in full.

What else do I get?

As well as the course, mentor, registration and certification, you also get the following benefits:

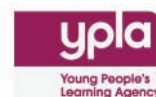

Free Gold Membership to the Bright Alumni worth £250 which gives you exclusive access to;

- Assessing jobs not advertised anywhere else
- Links to all our partner recruitment agencies and training providers
- Free CPD so you are always up to date
- Free CV writing service
- Assessing interview questions and answers
- Help in setting up as a freelance assessor
- Generous Referral Scheme
- 10% discount on all our other courses for life

Combined Assessors and PTLLS Qualification Level 3 Certificate in Assessing Vocational Achievement (15 Credits) and PTLLS Level 3 (12 Credits)

What is the Level 3 Assessor Certificate?

This qualification replaces the A1 assessors award as of Sept 2010. It is a nationally recognised and highly sought after qualification, which means you are qualified to assess others on their NVQ and on other qualifications in whatever subject you have experience in. The actual qualification is accredited by NCFE and gives you 15 Level 3 credits.

What is the Level 3 PTLLS Award?

PTLLS award is a nationally recognised qualification for anyone wishing to teach or train in the lifelong learning sector (non compulsory education). PTLLS is currently the industry benchmark and minimum requirement for people who want to work as trainers. It is a stepping stone to achieving the Certificate or Diploma in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector (CTLTS and DTLLS). The actual qualification is accredited by NCFE and is called Level 3/4 award in Preparing to Teach in the Lifelong Learning Sector.

The Combined Assessor & PTLLS qualification includes the following units:

- Unit 1- Understanding the principles and practices of assessment
- Unit 2- Assess occupational competence in the work environment
- Unit 3- Assess vocational skills, knowledge and understanding

- Unit 4- Roles, Responsibilities and Relationships in Lifelong learning
- Unit 5- Facilitate learning and development in groups
- Unit 6- Facilitate learning and development to individuals

You should complete all units to assess both knowledge and occupational skills. The qualification will enable you to assess and teach a range of qualifications under the QCF not just NVQ's. PTLLS enables you to deliver all funded training such as apprenticeships.

How is the training delivered?

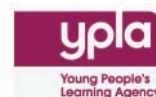

Firstly you complete an online learning course (Moodle), consisting of virtual lessons, reading, questions and activities. This enables you to get the underpinning knowledge you need before you can start assessing and teaching.

The topics covered on the Moodle are:

- Principles and requirements of assessing
- Supporting learners with special requirements
- Assessment methods and planning
- How to involve others in assessment
- Making judgements and giving feedback
- How to make assessment decisions
- How to carry out assessments
- Policies, procedures and codes
- Record keeping and information management
- Quality Assurance
- The Role of the Teacher
- Responsibilities and Boundaries
- How to do Lesson Planning
- How to complete a Scheme of Work
- How to deliver inclusive and motivating learning

You are allocated a mentor who will support you throughout the course and be available to answer any questions. She/he will contact you within 48 hours of registering to introduce him/herself.

Once you have completed the Moodle and your mentor is happy that you are ready to assess, you will be allocated 2 real learners. During the assessment you will complete assessment planning, record keeping, observation and setting case studies and tests. You will also give the learners feedback. You will learn how to correctly assess and support your candidates in the work environment.

Once you have completed the Moodle and completed all your assignments, you will also complete a micro teach. Your mentor will then help you put your portfolio together which is submitted for internal and external verification.

What is the micro teach?

This is held in locations across the UK on a monthly basis. Your mentor will arrange your micro teach. This involves presenting a 15 minute teaching session to your peers and mentor. Your peers will evaluate your micro teach and your mentor will carry out an assessment. You will then evaluate 3 of your peers teaching sessions.

What subjects can I assess?

You can assess any subjects that you are "competent" in. Competence is measured by your CV, so you can assess any areas you have work experience and/or qualifications in.

Can I use my own work place?

Yes you can, we have a flexible approach to learning so please call us to discuss this.

Who are Bright?

Bright are part of Bright International Training who work with over 60 training providers and colleges across the UK. As well as delivering teacher and assessor training, the company also delivers training contracts for employers and colleges.

Are Bright accredited?

Bright are accredited by NCFE to deliver assessor and teacher training. The company also has ISO9001 accreditation for quality and customer service. In all our External Moderation visit, we have been graded 1 (Excellent) in ALL areas. All Bright staff are highly experienced, qualified assessors and/or teachers and everyone has an NVQ in customer service.

Our flexible training approach is built around your needs

We offer a high level of flexibility in our training approach. You can qualify at your own pace and fit training around your existing job and lifestyle commitments. The online learning Moodle means you can learn at home or at work. Our dedicated assessors will always give you the best possible advice and support, and will only ever be a phone call away. You will also have access to other trainee assessors through the Moodle forum.

How long does it take?

The total Guided Learning Hours for the course is 132. This is made up of Moodle, practical visits as well as self study. The online learning takes approx 10 hours per week for 6 weeks and the length of the practical is approx 4 hours. The course length is 3 months. However you can complete it in 4-6 weeks fast track.

Why Assessing is a career choice of the future

- Adult skills remain high on the political agenda through NVQ's and Apprenticeships
- There are over 1800 NVQ's in the UK and these are continuing to grow
- NVQ's cover 80% of occupations in the UK, so assessors are needed from a wide range of backgrounds.
- We are putting live job vacancies for assessors on our job board on a daily basis
- Job vacancies are for all types of assessing in all parts of the country
- Apprenticeships are growing fast, creating a demand for assessors

"I chose to train with Bright because they offered the candidates I needed to complete the course and the advice they offered was impartial and they really seemed to know what they were talking about".
Ali Smart, Worcester

How much can I earn once qualified?

Once qualified most freelance assessors earn around £50K fte. Permanent positions pay around £20 to 30K per annum. Many of our assessors have also gained additional work such as consultancy and training services.

How much does it cost?

The course fees are all inclusive at £950. If paying by installments, there is a £50 admin fee.

Can I pay in installments?

Yes, you can start with just £250 deposit and pay over 4 monthly installments of £250. There is no credit check, all we ask is that you to pay these by direct debit.

What else do I get?

As well as the course, mentor, candidates, registration and certification, you also get the following benefits:

Level 4 CTLLS and PTLLS Combined (1st Half of DTLLS)

Certificate to Teach in the Lifelong Learning Sector
Level 4 (33 credits)

The CTLLS qualification is required for those carrying out an Associate Teacher role. An associate teaching role means a teaching role that carries significantly less responsibilities ordinarily carried out in a full teaching role such as curriculum development. If you are working at or aiming for full teacher role, you need to complete DTLLS.

Units covered:

- Preparing to teach in the lifelong learning sector (PTLLS)
- Planning and Enabling Learning
- Principles and Practice of Assessment
- Teaching a specialist subject

You need to have evidence of 30 hours of teaching, and 3 of those hours are to be observed. If you already have this system in place where you work, we can use copies of those observational reports. Alternatively we can come out and observe you which is included in the course price.

This course is at level 4, is worth 33 credits and is also the first half of DTLLS.

How is the training delivered?

You are allocated a mentor who will support you throughout the course and be available to answer any questions. She/he will contact you within 48 hours of registering to introduce him/herself.

"The quality and delivery of Bright's courses are exceptional".
NCFE External Moderator

The course is delivered through an online learning course (Moodle), consisting of virtual lessons, reading, questions and activities. Each module is covering a different aspect of the course and includes activities.

At the end of each unit there are specified assignments to complete, which are marked and internally moderated. You will need to keep a log of 30 hoursteaching, 3 hours of which will be observed by your mentor. Alternatively you can be observed by a qualified colleague in your workplace. There is also a micro teach to attend, these are held locally throughout the UK.

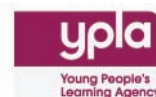

Knowledge of relevant elements of minimum core is embedded within the coursework.

What happens afterwards?

Once you have completed CTLLS you can apply for Associate Teacher Status (ATLS). Alternatively you can continue training for a further 3 months and do the second half of Diploma in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector (DTLLS), which will enable you to be employed in a Full Teacher role and apply for Qualified Teacher Status (QTLS).

How long does it take?

The total Guided Learning Hours for the CTLLS course is 120 plus 30 hours teaching. This is made up of Moodle, assignments as well as self study. The course length is 3-6 months. However you can complete it in your own pace.

Who are Bright?

Bright are part of Bright International Training who work with over 60 training providers and colleges across the UK. As well as delivering teacher and assessor training, the company also delivers training contracts for employers and colleges.

DTLLS Literacy and Numeracy Teacher Qualifications

These qualifications enable you to teach skills for life in literacy and numeracy, a part of the apprenticeship framework.

Teaching Skills for Life

Essential Skills under the Skills for Life agenda are:

- Literacy
- Numeracy
- English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL)

To solely teach these subjects you would need to do Level 5 Diploma in Teaching (literacy/numeracy/ESOL) in the Lifelong Learning Sector. These are short additional diplomas and mean that you can teach in your own occupational area as well as the key skills, this is ideal for those teaching apprenticeships.

Qualifications

To teach either literacy and/ or numeracy, you must be qualified in DTLLS level 5 teaching literacy and numeracy or equivalent. The qualifications are:

- Level 5 additional diploma in teaching literacy in the lifelong learning sector (45 credits)
- Level 5 additional diploma in teaching numeracy in the lifelong learning sector (45 credits)

You only complete the course for the subject you want to teach. If you want to do both, you must complete both.

Entry requirements

You must hold level 5 DTLLS or equivalent and have access to 75 hours teaching for each course that you want to do, so to do both you need 150 hours in total, 75 in literacy and 75 in numeracy. For entry to all courses GCSE grade A-C or equivalent in English and Maths will be required.

How is the training delivered?

You are allocated a mentor who will support you throughout the course and be available to answer any questions. She/he will contact you within 48 hours of registering to introduce him/herself.

The course is delivered through an online learning course (Moodle), consisting of virtual lessons, reading, questions and activities. Each module is covering a different aspect of the course and includes activities.

At the end of each unit there are specified assignments to complete, which are marked and internally moderated.

Teaching hours

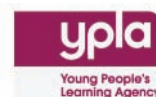

You will need to keep a log of 75 hours teaching for each diploma, 5 hours of which will be observed by a colleague in your workplace. For both diplomas you need to log 150 hours, and have 10 observations. Teaching can be either on a 1:1 basis or in a group and must be over at least 2 levels.

What happens afterwards?

Once you have completed each additional DTLLS, it will enable you to be employed in a teaching role for each subject. You be able to teach the skills for life element of apprenticeships.

How long does it take?

The total Guided Learning Hours for the each additional DTLLS is 120 plus 75 hours teaching. This is made up of Moodle, assignments as well as self study. The course length is 1-3 months. However you can complete it in your own pace. There are two modules to complete for each diploma.

Who are Bright?

Bright are part of Bright International Training who work with over 60 training providers and colleges across the UK. As well as delivering teacher and assessor training, the company also delivers training contracts for employers and colleges.

How much does it cost?

The course fees for this course depend on the route you are taking:

- DTLLS Additional Literacy £750
- DTLLS Additional Numeracy £750
- Both Additional Diplomas £1400 (Save £100)
- Full DTLLS with 1 additional Diploma £2100 (Save £100)
- Full DTLLS with both additional Diplomas £2800 (Save £150)

If paying by installments there is an additional £50 admin fee.

What does this price include?

This is an all inclusive price with no hidden extras. The fees include access to the Moodle and a personal tutor, all assignments, registration and certification.

Can I pay in installments?

PTLLS/CTLLS/ DTLLS Progression Map

Professional and Career Development Loans Factsheet

What is a Professional and Career Development Loan?

- A professional and career development loan (PCDL) is a deferred repayment commercial bank loan that can be used to help pay for the costs of learning or training that enhances your job skills or employment and career prospects.
- A PCDL can be taken out for any amount between £300 and £10000 to help fund the cost of the course.
- The Skills Funding Agency, in partnership with participating banks administers the PCDL programme. There are currently only two banks participating in the programme, Barclays and the Co-operative Bank.
- Unlike other loans the skills funding agency will pay the interest on the loan to the bank on your behalf while you are studying and for one month afterwards.

What can the loan be used for?

A Professional and Career Development Loan can help to fund a wide range of courses lasting up to two years (or three years, if the course includes a year of work experience). The course doesn't necessarily have to lead to a qualification, but it must be one that will help with your career. You'll find detailed information in the application pack, but in general a Professional and Career Development Loan could be an option for:

- A postgraduate course, like a masters
- Technical or management training
- A professional qualification
- A course at your local college or learning provider
- An additional bachelors degree (if you're already a graduate)

What costs you can use a Professional and Career Development Loan to help with?

You can use a Professional and Career Development Loan to help with:

- Course fees (up to 80 per cent of the total - or up to 100 per cent if you've been unemployed for three months)
- Other course costs, like books, travel and childcare
- Living expenses, like rent, food and clothing (if you are unemployed or working less than 30 hours per week)

Who is eligible to apply for a loan?

- To apply for the loan you must be aged 18 years or over
- You must be 'settled' in the UK and have been resident in the UK for at least 3 years prior to the start of your learning programme
- You must be intending to work in the UK, European Union (EU) or European Economic Area when you have completed your learning programme.

Who is not eligible to apply for a loan?

You cannot use the loan for any of the following courses:

- A foundation or access course used as a step towards a degree course (however, a stand-alone foundation course that leads to employment in its own right would be eligible)
- The Graduate Diploma in Law (GDL, otherwise known as the Common Professional Examination or CPE) as this is a course that can lead to the Legal Practice Course (LPC) or Bar Vocational Course (BVC)
- Careers advice or help with job hunting
- The costs of running or starting up a business (for example, marketing or buying a franchise license)
- A course from a learning provider based in the European Union if an equivalent course is available in the UK

How do I apply for a loan?

To apply for the loan you go to a participating bank direct, with our Bright course information. You will also need to quote Bright's Learner Provider Number: which is 20866. This number must be quoted when making your application for a career development loan. Participating Banks are:

How much will I pay back?

The PCDL must be repaid to the bank in accordance with their terms and conditions.

You'll need to agree the size of the loan with the bank before you apply. It's essential to be realistic, and not borrow more than you can afford to repay. The loan repayments aren't linked to your income like with a student loan for example.

When will I have to pay back the loan?

You must start repaying one month after your course has finished.

How can I get more information?

Leroy Laurent

Previous Occupation:

Teacher/Trainer/Youth Assessor

Current Occupation:

NVQ Assessor (Freelance)

Leroy has a wide range of teaching skills as he has worked as a senior youth worker and informal educator in some of the most challenging and engaging areas in London. He has always been interested in training and development and has held that role at a number of youth services and organisations during the span of his career. Recently he obtained QTS to add to his previous PGCE post 16 achieved in 2001. He has also recently been a secondary school teacher to add to many years experience as a mentor.

Leroy's passion for youth and community work encouraged him to set up his own company in 2006 specialising in training and development with a specialism in faith based work. His vision is to also develop formal and informal education with faith groups.

Moreover Leroy enjoys assessing and feels that it makes his teaching more interesting and 'wholesome'.

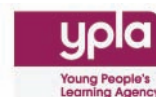

He decided that he wanted to share his work experience with a wider audience and add to his job prospects by upgrading on his assessor qualification and by becoming an Internal Verifier.

Leroy originally started assessing in 2004 with his local colleges but was given little support and struggled to find learners to assess after he completed the course or to get consistent assessing work.

He recently came across Bright Assessing and instantly received help and advice. Leroy said "the main attraction to the company was that Bright supplied the learners". He was very impressed with the support that was given by the staff and mentors. He sees it as a family and learning community.

He found that Bright is convenient for his work style and personal life, saying that "the course was easy to follow and it was great that I could complete it in my own time". He is now a much more established freelance assessor which he says works great around his already busy schedule. He thinks that 'Bright' is the perfect platform to launch a successful and consistent career in assessing.

Leroy looks to continue in his teaching roles, along with assessing and is currently working through his Verifiers course and has already been offered more work. According to him 'Bright' has given him a great incentive which he is already sharing with friends, colleagues and clients.
