The 10 Minute Relationship Expert in Action

- A Two-Day Workshop with Ian Haugh

Our relationships have the potential to be our greatest source of happiness, so how come they can sometimes seem to be the source of our greatest challenges?

Join me to learn how these challenges can be met and transformed so that we can enjoy our relationships and find happiness in them.

The 10 Minute Relationship Expert is a short ecourse delivering 10 principles for success in our relationships. This seminar will give participants the opportunity to investigate those principles and be guided as to how they can bring about change in their own relationships.

You should attend this workshop if you want to:

- Improve your experience of any relationship
- Learn how to use any challenges in your relationships as a springboard to transforming those relationships and so allow them to fulfil their creative potential.
- Stop being at the effect of others and their behaviour.
- Understand the purpose of any relationship
- Develop your ability to connect with others and communicate effectively
- Become accountable and so empowered within your relationships

"I am so grateful to have been in your group, I always felt safe, supported and loved, you were amazing. Thank you also for the fantastic 10 Minute Relationship Expert, the lessons are perfect reminders."
