

COSHH Awareness

Overview

An introduction to the Control of Substances Hazardous to Health Regulations concentrating on the risks to health and the importance and use of control measures.

Who Should Attend

Those who use hazardous substances in the workplace.

Aims

To give participants a better awareness of the risks arising from substances hazardous to health and a better understanding of how they should be controlled.

Objectives

- To raise awareness of the risks caused by hazardous substances and the ways in which they can be controlled
- To explain the content of the Control of Substances Hazardous to Health Regulations
- To define what a substance hazardous to health is
- Explain the likely routes of entry in to the body of hazardous substances
- List the documents providing information on hazardous substances and control measures

Content

- What is a Substance Hazardous to Health?
- What are the Risks?
- COSHH
- The Importance and Use of Control Measures

Certification

Participants should successfully complete a multiple choice assessment in order to receive the course certificate.

Number of Delegates: Suitable for up to 15 delegates.

Course Duration: ½ day