This very empowering course will introduce you to a variety of complementary holistic therapies or natural healing modalities. Holistic Treatments or “Holistic Therapies” are designed to treat the whole patient as opposed to the specific symptom they may be displaying. Holistic treatment is thought to treat the illness by boosting the immune system and overall health of the animal, which will in turn treat any secondary illnesses.

The first thing to do is learn to communicate with your pet about everyday things and their health challenges. However, finding out what they want to tell you is only the beginning. Acting on what you have been communicated is the next step. This usually involves restoring balance and harmony in their lives. There are many modalities available to us for this end and this course will cover several of them.

PART 1 - The first part of the course will look at how you can communicate with your pets and give a brief description of how you can begin to do this. Following this there is a lesson on understanding energy and how it works in helping to heal your animals. We close part one by looking at the foundation of holistic treatment, optimal nutrition. This is the “fuel” for the body and therefore needs to contain all of the essential components that an animal needs to boost its immune system and maintain health.

PART 2 - In part two, we explore flower essences and how they can help to maintain balance in the lives of animals, and why they are effective. Following this, there is a lesson on essential oils and their use for animals and what makes them so beneficial. Finally, part two covers animal chakras and the importance of maintaining their balance.

PART 3 - In part three, the course covers the holistic modality of Reiki for animals, however it is recommended that you complete a course in Reiki before performing this modality on your animal as this is an introductory lesson. The next lesson in this part covers crystal treatments for your animals and finally there is a lesson on the use of colour to help your animals.

The intention of this course is to help you to help your pets various physical, emotional and spiritual needs, and at the end you will have a basic understanding of the origins of natural healing modalities and how they can be used for both health conditions and relaxation for an animal’s health and well-being.
